LAST CALL FOR Personal Preparedness Survey. This is a completely anonymous survey covering the topics of food, water, shelter/energy, medical, financial, travel, and community preparedness. It will help you assess your own preparedness given the potential disruption scenarios. It will also help us get a handle on what our members are seeing, needing and wanting. We'll be reviewing the aggregated responses to determine what elements to focus on for further promoting community resilience.* If you have not already responded, please...

Feelings are a language with clues to the truth. How many times have you been upset or talking to someone who is upset and come away confused as to what the problem is? Or texted someone and run into unexpected conflict? Feelings in our culture are often thought of as a failing. We are pushed to be more machine-like as if that were a good thing. Yet feelings are the seat of our intuition. Please RSVP to Kristen Reynolds, kreynolds3000 at gmail dot com.

CDC implies concern about traveling to countries with high vax. Cases are Level 3 "High" in most high-vax countries (I added vax levels from OWID). In a twist of irony, CDC says, "Make sure you are up to date with your COVID-19 vaccines before traveling to these destinations."

This can be shown easily, too, using the CDC's own numbers. Behold, sepsis deaths. Notice the spike early in 2020 when it was all-ventilator all the time (in an otherwise falling signal), somewhat matched by the Ominous Omicron wave in this winter.

 Mystery Grove Publishing Co. @MysteryGrove · 51m

I think we as a society haven't had time to reflect on how insane the TikTok nurses phenomenon was during the early COVID scare, especially with knowledge that the initial treatment method (overpressured ventilators) was the thing that actually caused the huge early death waves

psychosis meaning

Psychosis is a term used to describe when people lose some contact with reality. Common symptoms of psychosis are hearing voices or having strong beliefs that are not shared by people within your community. For example, you may be worried that the government is trying to harm you and your loved ones.

Department of Homeland Security (DHS) information obtained by our offices through protected whistleblower disclosures raises serious concerns about DHS’s recently-paused Disinformation Governance Board (DGB) and the role the DGB was designed to play in DHS counter disinformation efforts. Documents show that, contrary to your May 4, 2022, testimony before the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, the DGB was established to serve as much more than a simple “working group” to “develop guidelines, standards, [and] guardrails” for protecting civil rights and civil liberties.¹ In fact, DHS documents show that the DGB was designed to be the Department’s central hub, clearinghouse and gatekeeper for Administration policy and response to whatever it happened to decide was “disinformation.”

Specifically, documents describe a prominent DGB designed to “serve as the departmental forum for governance of DHS policies, plans, procedures, standards, and activities” pertaining to what the government refers to as “mis-, dis-, and mal- information,” or “MDM,” “that threatens homeland security” as well as the Department’s internal and external point of contact for coordination with state and local partners, non-governmental actors, and the private sector.² Internal DHS memoranda also show that in practice, the DGB was expected to function as a “coordination and deconfliction mechanism... conven[ing] to discuss threats, assessments, response actions, and engagements as often as warranted.”³ According to the DGB’s charter,
