Welcome to our Monday Solutions Edition. Today we offer a number of resources on "Game B," which is a catch-all label for alternative systems to the one we have now, which is all about competition and zero-sum games, economically and socially. See the articles and resources under the Rebuilding Relationships, Society and Culture section below.

For today's Zoom chat, we will explore the continuing debate (uproar is more like it) around Emily Oster's Atlantic article calling for Amnesty (<https://bit.ly/3UBqLuw>). What should be our response when the whole COVID psyop is finally exposed? Where do you come down on the question of forgiveness versus punishment, and for whom? Click on the button to join:

SOVEREIGNTY NOTICE:

No one is telling you what to think or believe, or even what is true. Articles and videos offered here do NOT imply any kind of imprimatur of truth or finality on the part of anyone in Rise Up NH, but are offered for consideration as partial perspectives towards gaining a fuller picture of what's so. In general, we do not repeat the ubiquitous mainstream narratives, though most items reference these in their arguments. Please do your own research, suspend final conclusions in favor of continuing research, ignore what doesn't ring true for you, and always make up your own mind. Collective sense-making is a path, not a destination.

Technology is Not Values Neutral: Ending the Reign of Nihilistic Design - The Consilience Project

We fail to take tech seriously when we do not grasp its full impact on humans. It is essential that we adopt an approach to design that accounts for how tech affects the way people think and behave. This is axiological design, a values-based approach that examines how tech affects power dynamics in society, forms ecologies and habitats, and shapes the thoughts, values, and relationships of those using it.

Exclusive Screening and Discussion of The Abortion Talks - The Heterodox Academy

The Abortion Talks, a new documentary, examines the six-year clandestine dialogue that took place between three abortion-rights and three anti-abortion leaders in the aftermath of the 1994 Brookline clinic murders. Not yet publicly released, it offers a convincing look at the value of constructive disagreement around an emotionally-charged topic that is front-of-mind for many of our students. Can we learn from these efforts?

For either viewing, the link will be live for nine hours only:

Thursday, November 10, 6:00 p.m. ET

Tuesday, November 15, 6:00 p.m. ET

Register free for either session at <https://heterodoxacademy.org/events/exclusive-screening-and-discussion-of-the-abortion-talks-november-15-2022/>

The 90-minute screening will be followed by a 30-minute pre-recorded discussion between
