Welcome to our Friday News Edition with curated news of the day and memes at bottom. The implosion of the mini-sub near the Titanic this week echoed the titanic clashes we are now witnessing: Missouri v. Biden is the David-vs-Goliath clash that will establish how the US government has been illegally blocking free speech (and hopefully put an end to it); Congress and whistleblowers clashed with the Biden's IRS, DOJ and Durham (and Schiff), showing the depths to which those in power will stoop to protect their (and their children's) lawlessness (and just wait for the Impeachment clash); the entire Establishment and their media toadies are clashing with RFK Jr over his nonstop revelations on many taboo topics, not just vaccines (while the witless Hotez avoids the debate but still publicly clashes); the UN, WHO, and Central Bankers are daring an inevitable clash with freedom-loving people everywhere as they advance their rollout of digital ID's, vaccine passports and CBDCs; NATO is upping its clash with Russia, teasing the bear and bringing a nuclear response ever closer, the ESG- driven Pride and Trans agendas continue fomenting their designed clashes with parents and sensible people across the globe; and of course the ceaseless truth of vaccine and lockdown harms are clashing with the lies of Big Pharma, causing them and their media fronts to be ever more shrill and ruthless in their attacks and repression. The hot summer of 5th generation warfare is in full swing, and nothing less than the soul of humanity is at stake.

Happy Solstice everyone!

10 Ethical Principles of the Nuremberg Code

1. It is essential that research participants voluntarily consent to participate.
2. Research must be for the good of society and the aim should be unobtainable by other methods or means of study.
3. Research must be designed and based on the results of animal studies and knowledge of the natural history of the problem under study.
4. Research must avoid unnecessary suffering and injury, both physical and mental.
5. No experiment should be conducted where serious injury or death are potential outcomes.
6. The degree of risk to be taken should never exceed the anticipated benefits of the results.
7. Research participants must be protected against, and preparations made for, the possibility of injury, disability, or death.
8. Experiments should be conducted only by scientifically qualified persons.
9. Human research participants must be able to discontinue their participation at any time.
10. Scientists must be willing and able to terminate the experiment at any stage if it is likely to result in the injury, disability, or death of participants.

On how ATRAZINE, a pesticide commonly found in drinking water, has been shown to be a potent endocrine disruptor. In a study reported in PNAS, "Atrazine-exposed males [frogs] were both demasculinized (chemically castrated) and completely feminized as adults. Ten percent of the exposed genetic males developed into functional females that copulated with unexposed males and produced viable eggs."

... m-2 applied continuously over the surface area of the earth ($5.10 \times 10^{14} \text{ m}^2$) accounts for roughly 93% of the total energy change inventory, accounting for roughly 93% of the warming of the earth system that is due to the increase in greenhouse gas radiative forcing. The 1971-2010 average rate of the upper ocean (0-700 m) accounts for about 64% of the total energy change inventory, Arctic sea ice, ice sheets and glaciers accounts for 3% of the total, and the warming of the atmosphere makes up the remaining 1%.

Physical Research Letters

Heat content and thermosteric sea level change of the World Ocean for the 0-2000 m layer increased at a rate of 0.39 W m^{-2} (per unit area of the ocean) corresponding to a rate of 0.09°C warming of 0.09°C .

This is haunting: A doctor at a major children's hospital explains how puberty blockers shut down a child's hypothalamus, which controls emotions, sexuality, and the aesthetic sense.

"To shut down that system is to shut down what makes us human."
city-journal.org/article/transg... Click to read

Physician: I don't know. I pray that there is a change. One of the things I've been thinking about is what puberty blockers do to children. This medication is called a "gonadotropin releasing hormone agonist" and it comes in the form of monthly injections or an implant. And because it simulates the activity of this hormone, it shuts down the activity of the hypothalamus. The hypothalamus is this almond-sized structure in your brain, it's one of the most vestigial structures we have, and it controls all the other hormonal structures in your body—your sexual development, your emotions, your fight-or-flight response, everything. But it shouldn't be described in such cold physiological terms because your hypothalamus is not just a hormone factory. It's this system that allows you to stand in awe of the beauty of a sunset, or to hear the sounds of orchestral music and to stop whatever you're doing and want to listen. And I always think that if someone were to ask me, Where is it that you would look for the divine spark in each individual? I would say that it would be somewhere "beneath the inner chamber," which is the Greek derivation of the term hypothalamus. To shut down that system is to shut down what makes us human.
